

Rai Katimansah

Managing Director, Investments (Head of Investments)
(Singapore)

Rai is responsible for acquisitions, dispositions and investments. Prior to joining the Investment Manager, Rai was a Managing Director at Wachovia Bank where he was responsible for making real estate private equity and mezzanine debt investments in South East Asia and China. Before joining Wachovia Bank, Rai was a Senior Vice President and the Head of Financial Products at Mapletree Investments, a real estate company wholly-owned by Temasek Holdings. At Mapletree, Rai started an Asia-focused real estate mezzanine fund and helped set up a joint venture Malaysia-focused real estate opportunity fund with CIMB Bhd. Before joining Mapletree Investments, Rai was a Vice President in Lehman Brothers' Principal Transactions Group, focusing on real estate private equity and mezzanine debt investments in Japan, China, and South East Asia.

Rai holds a Master of Urban Planning degree from the University of Pennsylvania and a Bachelor of Science degree in Architecture and Planning from Cornell University.